GREAT PLANS FOR FLOWER FESTIVAL ENTERTAINMENT

Free auto rides for out of town visitors will be offered as a Flower Festival attraction in place of the floral parade on Saturday. This decision was reached yesterday morning after some time had been spent in canvassing the merchants to learn if they would make entries in the parade. All who were approached were loyal enough to support the Festival to the extent of promising entries if the parade was held, but all seemed to feel that it placed a burden on them which should be avoided.

As a result the sight-seeing auto trip for visitors was decided upon as an alternative attraction. This will afford all the advantage of the parade from the advertising viewpoint, and will undoubtedly do the town more good. All out of town visitors will be given free auto ride tickets as they pay their admission fee to the festival exhibits. Pass-out checks will be given them when they start on their ride if they wish to return to the club house. Local people who wish to accompany friends on the sight-seeing trip will be given the privilege on payment of a 25-cent fare.

Entertainment Features

Mr. Oskar Seiling, violinist, will be the principal musical attraction of the festival. He appears Friday evening with the trio of the Brahms Quintet, the other members being Mr. Alex. Simonsen, cello, and Mr. Homer Grupp, piano. Although a resident of Sierra Madre, Mr. Seiling has not been heard here for about five years and Mrs. E. W. Camp, who is in charge of the festival entertainment features reports great enthusiasm over the announcement of his appearance here. His mastery playing has won him a foremost place among the artists of Southern California.

The music of the first evening is also unusually attractive because of the appearance of Mr. S. R. Parmegiani of Los Angeles, one of the organizers of the original Creator Band, and considered one of the finest saxophone players in the United States. His work is usually a revelation in the art of playing a reed instrument. He will be heard in solos and in duets with Mr. George B. Morgridge, Mr. Herbert Ingraham will give some cello numbers and will be heard with pleasure after an absence of several months from the city.

An effort is being made by President Tarr of the Board of Trade and by Mr. Camp to have the Pacific Electric put on an extra car for evening service during the flower show, leaving Los Angeles at seven and returning at ten on Thursday and Friday evenings and at twelve on Saturday evening. It is thought that many more evening visitors would come from Los Angeles and Pasadena if this arrangement could be effected.

FEED AND FUN NIGHT

MASONIC SOCIAL CLUB ENJOYS BIG TIME AT ANNIVERSARY SESSION

Warned by mysterious invitations that they would remain home at their own risk, members of Sierra Madre Lodge and visiting Masons turned out in large numbers for the annual meeting of the Feed & Fun Club Tuesday evening. Following the stated meeting of the lodge they descended to the parlors of the club house for a couple of hours of smoking, eating and jollity. C. F. Gray had resisted the enticements of the opening of the trout season and the first league ball game of the season to be on hand and cook the roast for the hungry and appreciative crowd.

After the roast beef and fixings were disposed of President Patterson of the club announced the annual election of directors which resulted in the choice of Messrs. Webb, Morgridge, A. S. Mead, Evans, Ballou, C. J. Pegler and Coapman. Then ensued a round of stories and remarks which kept the laughter going almost incessantly till a late hour.

If any present had the idea that H. E. C. Webb could not sing they had a big surprise when that feature was called for. The banter of Lawless and Monte over the best cow on earth caused much laughter. No one was so soft hearted enough to sympathize with Gray when he told of his mistake in bragging about his $1,000 saddle pony when Assessor Ballou was around. The latter said it was not for him to doubt a brother Mason's word, so the horse is listed on his book at the 50 percent valuation of $500. J. P. Vosburg, the biggest man in the lodge, told how it felt to be the "baby" and said he was only living in hope that he would soon have a chance to see another travel in his footsteps. Various others took part in the informal talkfest, which was pronounced one of the best on record.

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

The time having arrived when the club had become the owner of a majority of the building association stock, and the opinion having developed that the conduct of the business by one board of directors would be more satisfactory and economical, it was suggested nearly a year ago that merging of the two bodies should be considered. This merging was brought up for consideration at several club meetings and was recently accomplished. At the business session last Monday the club voted to assume the responsibility of paying to all stockholders who do not donate their stock the amount due, after the mortgage is paid.

Each club member was asked to try to sell two season and three concert tickets for the flower show, carrying out a general plan to interest all strangers and newcomers in the flower show events.

After the discussion of club finances led by Mrs. Pierce and Miss Webster, the informal caucus proved to be a spirited affair. The president's request that no one evince unwillingness to serve, during the caucus, was supported and the appended list of suggested candidates for nominations resulted, of value as showing the informal choice of those present. Elimination of those unable to serve will reduce the number available for choice for the nominations, and other names may be written into the informal ballots to be sent out as usual by the nominating committee. Club members may therefore choose from the list to be posted at the club house or substitute other names. The following suggestions were made:

For president: Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Osgood, Miss Webster, Miss Coffey, Mrs. Fennell, Mrs. Lawless, Mrs. W. S. Andrews, Mrs. F. Hart, Mrs. Steinberger, Mrs. Nourse, Mrs. Welsher, Mrs. Ingraham, Mrs. Frank Wright.

For vice-president: Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. Crisp, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. G. Hallet Johnson.

For second vice-president: Mrs. Seeley, Mrs. Copp, Mrs. Goodfellow, Mrs. Dennison, Mrs. Nourse.

For recording secretary: Miss H. Woodward, Mrs. Evans, Miss Webster.

For corresponding secretary: Mrs. Fairbanks, Miss Coffey, Miss Ethel Powell.

For treasurer: Mrs. Deitz, Mrs. Dennison, Mrs. Capps, Dr. Betts.

For auditor: Mrs. Deitz, Mrs. Camp, Mrs. Steinberger.

For board of directors: Mrs. Goodfellow, Mrs. Conard, Mrs. Ingraham, Mrs. Keys, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. G. Hallet Johnson, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Caley, Mrs. F. J. Hart, Mrs. Baker, Miss Graham, Mrs. Lawless, Mrs. Laws, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Kimball.

...TION PICTURE PLAYS

For the Saturday evening picture program piano selections will be furnished by Miss Lenore Pogue. On Thursday evening, April 10, there will be "cello music by Herbert Ingraham, with accompaniment by Mrs. G. Hallet Johnson. "The Dawning," a two-reel subject, will be a feature of this program which will be the last until April 24, as the club house will be in the hands of the flower festival committee in the interim.

CAPT. WALLACE DIES

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT PASSES AWAY AT BONITA AVENUE RESIDENCE

Captain William Wallace passed away Saturday morning, March 29, at his home on Bonita avenue, at the age of 78 years. He had been in feeble health for some time so his passing was not unexpected.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Wallace spent his early life in that city and in New Jersey, removing with his parents to Illinois at the age of twenty and settling on a farm south of Newark. He passed three years in the service of the Union during the Civil War, enlisting as a sergeant in Co. E, 12th Illinois Infantry, and being mustered out as a first lieutenant. He married Jane A. Neff in 1858. After the war they resided in Pittsburg, Pa., Des Plaines, Ill., and Beaver, Pa. Mrs. Wallace passed away at Beaver in 1899.

Captain Wallace returned to Sandwich, Ill., where he married Miss Emma E. Cone in 1902. After living for a time in Chicago, and Aurora they came to California in 1906. They located in Long Beach but have resided in Sierra Madre since 1911. While in Sandwich, Ill., Captain Wallace became a member of the Methodist church, and on coming to Sierra Madre became affiliated with the Congregational church of which he was a faithful member, attending services regularly until his feebleness kept him at home.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. H. Hannaford, in the parlors of Renaker & Gay on Monday, March 31. The remains were laid to rest in Rosedale cemetery, Los Angeles, in the plot of ground owned by Stanton Post, G. A. R., of which Captain Wallace was a member. Officers of the post conducted the burial services according to the ritual of the order.

Besides the sorrowing wife and a multitude of friends there are left to mourn Captain Wallace an only child, Mrs. Maria Basley of Pittsburg, and her three children; one sister, Mrs. H. E. DuBarry of Pittsburg, who, with her husband and two daughters, Miss Emily DuBarry and Mrs. J. E. Metzger, with her husband, are spending the winter in Long Beach and were therefore able to be present at the burial.

PLANTING STREET TREES

Regardless of the results of the street tree planting campaign so far as legal procedure is concerned, much good has resulted in arousing sentiment among individual property owners. Many have proceeded to plant their parkways without waiting for the whole street to be planted. While the individual planting is not entirely satisfactory to those who insist on uniformity as absolutely essential, it is surely better than barren parkways.

The longest stretch of street to be planted this season is the extension of Auburn Avenue recently opened up by A. N. Carter. He has just finished planting incense cedars on both sides of the street. These trees are native to our Sierra Madre mountains and so are peculiarly appropriate in the tract so near the foot of the slope. The form of their roots makes it possible to move a large quantity of earth when transplanting, which should be favorable to quick growth of the young trees.

CHANGE IN GAS OFFICE

The Sierra Madre office of the Southern Counties Gas Company is now in charge of Miss Scholl who took the place of Miss Kemper of Monrovia on Tuesday. All books and records pertaining to the Sierra Madre district will be kept here and the bookkeeping will be done here instead of at the Monrovia office. This will have the effect of materially reducing the red tape involved in some transactions with the company.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICES

The sermon theme of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hannaford, at the Congregational Church next Sunday morning will be "The Unity of Life with its Message," a study in practical Christianity. In the evening the subject will be "Character Building."

DAIRY CHANGES HANDS

Messrs. Frank Ross and Ervin Hill have purchased the Live Oak Dairy business from M. Stevens and will conduct it at the present well equipped location at East Central avenue. Both partners have been employed by Mr. Stevens for a number of months and are consequently familiar with the business.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church was held in the church parlors on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. H. Hannaford and Dr. Abbie Betts were the hostesses. A social time followed the short business meeting and refreshments were later served.

FAKE REPORTS CAUSE DISTRESS

Apparently some one has been doing a lot of plain and fancy lying in an attempt to get notoriety through the public interest in the Friedmann cure for tuberculosis. Whether or not it is a real cure some individuals have seized upon it as a means of getting their names into print. Their success in the latter respect has caused no little anxiety to sufferers and to practitioners who are anxious to give the alleged cure a trial.

The trouble has been caused by newspaper reports that this or that man in various parts of the country had received some of the serum for use with his patients. All over the country are sufferers who have tried the remedies at hand without success and feel that all hope of benefit from any remedy in their own cases lies in getting it promptly. They are anxious to try the new cure because they fear the consequences of waiting until its success has been demonstrated. Reading reports of its being received in various parts of the country they are disposed to criticize their own physicians for their failure to secure it.

Apparently all reports of the Friedmann cure having been sent to others by Dr. Friedmann are false, judging by a telegram received from the latter's private secretary, C. de Vidal-Hundt, formerly a newspaper man in Los Angeles. V. L. Joslyn, who was formerly an associate of Hundt on a Los Angeles newspaper, is now residing in Sierra Madre. He and other newspaper friends communicated with Hundt in an attempt to learn how soon the cure would be available for use in Los Angeles. In a telegraphic reply Hundt said: "Remedy still in hands of discoverer, but am negotiating for American rights and quick state distribution with good old California in first place. Vaccine cannot be administered without at least three weeks' course under Friedmann."

AID FOR SUFFERERS

SUBSTANTIAL SUM RAISED BY THE ENTERTAINMENT AND SUBSCRIPTIONS

Sierra Madre will send $63.80 to the fund for the aid of the flood sufferers, with some possible additions. Last night the Woman's Club devoted the picture play and musical program to the purpose of raising funds with excellent results. Net receipts at the door were $28.80, with special contributions reported by Dr. Betts, as follows: Mr. Peterson, $5; unknown, $5; Miss Davidge, $15, bringing the total to $58.80. To this amount will be added a $5 subscription brought to the News office by Dr. J. M. Lee.

CELEBRATES 48th BIRTHDAY

Judge Charles Clinton Nourse was receiving congratulations Tuesday on the completion of his eighty-fourth year. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Nourse invited a few friends to assist their father in celebrating and a most enjoyable occasion is reported. The guests included Judge C. H. Caldwell who was associated with Judge Nourse in the practice of law in Keosauqua, Iowa, more than half a century ago and now resides in Los Angeles; Judge E. H. Stiles and T. M. Walker, old Des Moines friends now residing in Los Angeles; C. O. Nourse, a nephew, also of Los Angeles, and Rev. W. H. Hannaford of Sierra Madre. The time spent in recounting experiences of past years was enjoyed to the fullest degree.

SELLS ANOTHER STUDEBAKER

Milton Steinberger has sold a Studebaker "35" to Mrs. Williams of Auburn avenue. He reports other prospects as being so interested that rapid increase in the number of cars owned in Sierra Madre is to be expected soon. For the benefit of patrons who wish to hire a car by the hour or day he secured a 1912 five-passenger E. M. F., which makes an attractive appearance and makes possible a first class auto livery service.

MARCH REALTY TRANSFERS

TO DRIVE DULL CARE AWAY

"Poems with punch" might be the appropriate title of two volumes of verse just placed on sale at the News Printery. It is not punch to drink—but a kind that makes you feel better. One volume is a collection of the best verse of S. E. Kiser, entitled "The Land of Little Care." If you live in a land of much care a perusal of these pages will soon work a transformation for you. The other volume is a collection of things by Strickland W. Gilliland, entitled "Including Finnigan." Gilliland is the man who wrote "Off Agin', On Agin', Gone Agin', Finnigan," and "She Felt of Her Belt at the Back," both of which are included in the book. No further recommendation is necessary. You positively cannot buy more pleasure and inspiration for a dollar than by getting one of these books. The News Printery has a number of other little gift books at 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c which will meet almost any purpose.

LIFE'S FORMULA

Love a little, spurn a little, give a little, earn a little, laugh a little, cry a little, chaff a little, sigh a little, work a little, play a little, shirk a little, pray a little.

Grim a little, scowl a little, chin a little, howl a little, use a little, take a little, lose a little, make a little, run a little, lag a little, pun a little, brag a little.

Walk a little, roar a little, talk a little, soar a little, weep a little, breathe a little, sleep a little, grieve a little, mope a little, prate a little, hope a little, wait a little.

And future generations in our world of woe and love can do no more than follow "Life's Formula."—New York Mail.

LURE OF CALIFORNIA

Chester Rowell in California Outlook: At a recent farewell dinner in San Francisco to a popular business man who was about to leave to take charge of the New York office of the trust which had absorbed his business, it came out that the guest of the evening had offered his directors to work for five years for nothing, if they would let him stay in California, but they insisted, instead, on transferring him to New York at an increased salary.

This is only a minor personal incident, but it illustrates the lure of California. Here was a gentleman well-connected, who knew intimately both California and New York, who preferred to work for nothing in California to doing the same work for a large salary in New York, even with two or three months' leave in California every year. And who that knows would hesitate to make the same choice if he could afford it? New York ugly, uncomfortable and disheartening, with a climate whose best days are just endurable, dirty, noisy, and nerve-wracking, an enormous mass of petty people engaged in petty affairs, with a few great ones, engaged in exploiting the rest, and a few inspired idealists, lost from sight in the crowd, a city which wears out the body and weighs down the soul—who for any stress but that of necessity would live in New York, and who that knows California would leave it?

There is a glamor of distance about a great city that soon disappears on contact. But the glamor of California never wanes. Here beauty is the common environment and comfort is unescapable. Here there is opportunity. Whoever can do anything worth while finds all men ready to have him do it. There is more than enough for every one to do, and there is no crowding and jostling at the door of opportunity. Here is room to grow and to breathe and to work. If one must needs get rich, he can draw from the bounty of nature rather than from the spoliation of his fellow men. And if he has some more important and pleasanter aspiration, that too, is open freely before him. Here is the atmosphere of hope, of progress, of an abounding future. One sees the world growing around him. Work is worth while. Or, if pleasure is wanted, here is the playground of the continent.

It is the lure of California, as we all feel it.

Editorial Chat

The Irony of Fate—
It is said the Ad Club of Topeka, Kansas, imported an opera company to give a performance for the benefit of the club's treasury and lost several hundred dollars because the event was not properly advertised. Served them right.

Perversity of People and Things—
The tendency of some people to do the right thing at the wrong time is suggestive of a fountain pen which refuses to flow except when placed in an upright position in the pocket of a fancy vest.

Well Named Jurist—
The Georgia supreme court has reversed nineteen decisions of a circuit judge named Flite. I should think he would feel like revising the spelling of his name.

Argument for Secrecy—
Some of the opponents of reasonable "blue sky" legislation, especially the authors of the numerous anonymous circulars which have been coming through the mails, put forth arguments about as weighty as an editorial from a Georgia paper which says:

"The law requiring banks to publish their reports in newspapers should be changed. It tells thieves and robbers the best time for them to come. Sufficient reports could be made to the patrons privately."

Exactly. Also reports could be made to said thieves and robbers privately. If officials were so inclined. Just so with investment concerns as well as banks. The thieves and robbers could appear in any guise that might suit their convenience, their operations becoming easier in inverse proportion to the amount of publicity required in the conduct of the concern.

A Business Administration—
In John W. Shenk Los Angeles has the best mayoralty material offered in a good many years. The conferees did well when they named him as their candidate. That he will be elected is a foregone conclusion, for the Socialists appear to have less chance this year than they did two years ago. Shenk is well educated, experienced in law, in touch with all branches of municipal affairs through service as city attorney, and above all is thoroughly clean. He is a quiet, unassuming chap whose ability in keeping up with the vast work of the city attorney's office indicates that Los Angeles will have a real business administration, but not the sort George Randolph Chester likes to describe.

No Adequate Name—
Some alienist will have to invent a new name for the obsession of jealousy with which the Los Angeles publishers regard each other. Every last one of them is scared nearly to death lest the other fellow may get a little credit for accomplishing something. Their inability to get together and boost some public policies is more responsible than anything else for the fact that Los Angeles is yet an overgrown village instead of being in the city class to which population and wealth entitle her.

One Consolation—
Reports that the burned Mt. Wilson Hotel will be replaced by a fireproof concrete structure bring a pang of regret that the old building should have been destroyed. The new one may be more substantial and costly, but it is hard to imagine a pile of steel and concrete as hospitable as the old. The warmth of the brown wooden walls of the dining room and the coziness of the big chairs in front of the fireplace in the parlors seemed like a part of the building. The consoling feature of the situation lies in the fact that F. B. Ross will still be there as host. You may be perfectly sure that you walked a thousand miles in ascending the trail during the afternoon. But after you have sat by the fire and listened to him spin yarns for an hour or two you are at least ten times that distance from all care and trouble. So I hope they will hurry that new building.

G. B. M.

Having disposed of the Live Oak Dairy to Messrs. Ross & Hill, I wish to thank my patrons for pleasant relations in the past and to suggest that they continue their patronage of the new firm. Prompt settlements of all accounts now due will be greatly appreciated.
M. STEVENS.

GEMS FROM GEORGIA

Dahlonega Nugget.—The cyclone which passed through parts of Alabama, Florida and Georgia last week destroyed many thousands of dollars worth of property. Three persons were killed and many injured. Two school houses were in its track, full of children which were demolished and not a single one killed.

More Useful Than Bridge

Cleveland Courier.—Mr. Jesse Wright gave a wood-chopping last Friday and sociable at night. All present had a good time.

Good Fly Advice

Banks Co., Journal.—The "Fly" is beginning to put in his appearance. Let's use every means possible to exterminate this dangerous pest. "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." If we allow no accumulations, where the fly can breed, we cut off the increase very perceptibly. Allow nothing on the premises that will attract or breed them. Screen them out and lastly starve them, for this is the only way to rid your premises of their presence. "Take up the fly's meal ticket!"

May Have Been Worth It

Dahlonega Nugget.—Ten thousand dollars is a pretty high price for one hug. Yet this is what a Washington woman is asking of a wealthy man of that city who she claims forcibly hugged her. This man had better get some poor fellow to do his hugging.
